FOR SALE.

Valuable Real Estate in Greene County, North Carolina.

DESIROUS of changing my residence, I offer for sale my plantation, known as the

"STREETER FARM."

It contains 1,900 acres, 1,200 of which are cleared, the remainder is well timbered, with Pine, Oak and Hickory. The plantation is under good fence. Marl and Swamp Muck, for composting, INEXHAUSTIBLE. This is justly regarded as one of the finest Cotton Farms in North Carolina.

There is on the premises a large, commodious Dwelling House, which is being repaired and refitted, together with all necessary out-buildings, including cabins for laborers.

I will also sell with the land aforesaid, all my Mules, Horses and other stock; farming implements, as well as household and kitchen furniture.

This is a rare opportunity for any one wishing to purchase a first-class Plantation in the South, with everything deemed necessary for the immediate commencement of farming operations.

Terms reasonable. Those wishing to purchase can apply, for further information, to my Attorney, G. W. Johnston, Greenville, N. C., or to the undersigned.

POOR MISSISSIPPI.

A Specimen Dozen of Negro Jurors.

Trial and Acquital of a Black Murderer at Columbus.

A SHAMEFUL AFFAIR.

HOLLY SPRINGS, Miss., Aug. 28, 1869.

Last Friday is said to have been one of the darkest days of oppression in the annals of Mississippi. The scene was Columbus, distinguished among the cities of the South for its wealth, intelligence, and the law-abiding character of its people.

It seems that some months since a famous colored preacher, known in different cities of the Union—among them, New Orleans, St. Louis, Richmond, Philadelphia and Boston—as the Rev. Pleasant Bowler, a notorious scoundrel and impostor, a man of great and wicked power among the blacks, made a deadly attack upon the Radical Sheriff of the county, one Cline, and his deputies, while they were quietly proceeding to jail with him under arrest for inciting a riot in the streets of Columbus, and leading an assault upon a civil officer in the discharge of his duty. Bowler, on the occasion above alluded to, shot Cline, and emptied his revolver at the deputies, but was finally wounded and secured.

On Thursday of last week, he was brought to trial, before Judge George Brown, recently from Ohio, now, by appointment of General Ames, Circuit Judge of the District in which Lowndes County is. The State was represented by Theodore C. Lyon, an ex-Confederate officer, and a young man of ability and reputation, who, in the absence of the Attorney General, was requested by the Court to assume the direction of the prosecution—thus much for the Radical Judge—while Col. J. A. Orr, a distinguished lawyer, and a leader in the Republican party in Mississippi, together with other experienced counsel, appeared for the prisoner; and all that perversion of testimony, and appeals to passion, prejudice and ignorance could do, was done in his behalf.

For the first time in the history of Lowndes County a negro jury was empanneled, and what a spectacle those ignorant beings presented. Some of them looked ridiculously uplifted and insolent on the strength of their elevation, others half frightened. Ten out of the twelve were in their shirt sleeves, and half of that number with their black skins showing through their rags. They sat to try an issue which the white population of the County, men, women and children, felt to be a more important one to them—considering the character and former practices of the prisoner, the crimes charged, his evil and incendiary influence over the more ignorant class of negroes, and the fact that whites are outnumbered five to one by the blacks in that old wealthy County—than had ever before been submitted to a jury of twelve men in the history of the Courts of the County.

On the trial the State made out a plain case by the concurring testimony of three or four white men of high character, sustained by black witnesses—that the prisoner, when found by the Sheriff, with the warrant in his hand, had in his easy reach and possession a gun, a pistol, and a sword; that he quietly informed the Sheriff, after looking at the warrant, that he "would die before being arrested," but at last pretended to submit, and, after walking quietly a short distance to disarm suspicion, unexpectedly drew a concealed weapon, shot the Sheriff in the arm and breast, and was only stayed in his deadly work by being disabled himself.

The defense set up, to the utter astonishment of the community who heard of it then for the first time, was that Bowler was not in his right mind—the effects of a fever at the time of the shooting. To the truth of this some half dozen slatternly negro women (a class over whom Bowler exercises an almost supernatural influence) swiftly swore, amid pitiable contradictions and entanglements on the cross-examination, at least one half of them adding, in their zeal, by way of making things doubly sure, that "Mr. Clines shot brother Bowle rfirst." The chief witness, a skinny-faced mulatto hag, at whose hut Bowler was found by the Sheriff, to make him sufficiently feverish for the alleged delirium, swore, with fierce reiteration, that "Brother Bowler shuck hisself wid de chill mighty nigh outen de bed;" "dat his eyes looked mighty curis;" and that "he sweat so when the fever come on dat he wet de sheets wringin' wet, and den it went through the bed tick, and den through de matteress," the most notable case of sweating probably in the annals of medicine, and sufficient, the prosecution reasonably thought, to have relieved almost any case of feverish delirium. As "brother Bowler," however, was found standing in the floor "booted and spurred," upon the entrance of the officers, the same accommodating witness swore that "it was did with his clothes on." But this is enough to present an idea of the character of the evidence by which causes like the one in question, involving issues of no less moment than the lives of citizens, the public peace and the majesty of the law itself, are determined in Mississippi, under Radical rule.

It may be well to add that the testimony of half dozen negro women was flatly contradicted in every point by both white and black witnesses as well as by medical testimony, and all the circumstances of the case.

The excited crowd, mixed white and black, filled the large court-room, galleries and all, through the day and night, during the progress of the trial, if, indeed, it can be called by such a name. After having conducted the case throughout with great moderation and fairness, at 3 o'clock on Friday morning, Mr. Lyon closed the case, by an argument said to have been powerful and convincing, well calculated to move any jury not utterly regardless of their oaths.

Not one of the jurors could read or write. One of the number, however, received from the clerk the indictment and the written charges of law, in grievous mockery, and retired amid the solemn silence of the by-standers; and, upon the mass mobbling of the court after breakfast, came in and told the Judge—"we is all ob de 'pinion dat he didn't do it." A judgment of "not guilty as charged in the indictment!" was recorded; when excited and outraged men looked in each other's faces and thought of the things that were and are to be. And justice beheld the spectacle of a proceeding in her courts against a heinous wrong-doer, the teachings of which were to each one of the ignorant thousands, who were watching the trial, "go thou and do likewise."

One of the negroes, though solemnly sworn and questioned according to law, before being allowed to take his seat on the jury, afterward boasted that "they might have known what he was gui'in to 'cide afore dey put him dar." And another was found to have taken up two collections among his color for the benefit of Bowler since his confinement in jail, while still a third honest looking one explained his assent to the verdict as follows: He admitted he thought Bowler guilty of the offence charged, "but den," said he, "I never been to de courthouse in no sich bisiness and de lead man dat hail de paper said he hed been and he know'd all about it, and dat de way was for us all to come to him, kase he hed de papers, and him and anuder keep on dat way till we all comed to him."

You have thus before you an example illustrating how society in Mississippi is protected; how the newly enfranchised class is fitted for, and instructed in, the exercise of the highest rights and duties of the American citizen; how suspicion, fear and hatred are fixed between the two races; how the people of the country are encouraged in love and respect for the Government; in short, how military rule and the reconstruction laws of Congress operate in Mississippi for the good of the whites, for the good of the blacks, for the honor of the Government, and the exaltation in the eyes of the world of our free institutions.

DOTY'S WASHING MACHINE,

LATELY MUCH IMPROVED,

AND THE NEW

UNIVERSAL CLOTHES WRINGER.

Improved with ROWELL'S PATENT DOUBLE COGWHEELS, and the PATENT STOP, are now unquestionably far superior to any apparatus for washing clothes ever invented, and will save their cost once a year, by saving labor and clothes.

Those who have used them give testimony as follows:

"We like our machine much; could not be persuaded to do without it, and with the aid of Doty, we feel that we are masters of the position."—Rev. L. Scott, Bishop M. E. Church.

"It is worth one dollar a week in any family."—N. Y. Tribune.

"In the laundry of my house there is a perpetual thanksgiving on Mondays for the invention."—Rev. Theodore L. Cuyler.

"I heartily commend it to economists of time, money, and contentment."—Rev. Dr. Bellows.

"Every week has given it a stronger hold upon the affections of the inmates of the laundry."—N. Y. Observer.

"Friend Doty—Your last improvement of your Washing Machine is a complete success. I assure you 'our machine,' after a year's use, is thought more of to-day than ever, and would not be parted with under any circumstances."—Solon Robinson.

"Your Washing Machine has been in daily use in our laundry and the housekeeper expresses herself as highly pleased with it. It certainly accomplishes a greater amount of work, with less labor, and does not wear the clothes near so much as the old fashioned wareh-board. By using it one laundress is dispensed with."—Wm. F. F. Rowell, Superintendent of Infant Department of St. Catherine's Nursery, N. Y. City.

PRICES.—A Fair Offer.

Send the retail price Washer $14, Extra Wringer $9 and we will forward either or both machines, free of freight, to places where no one is selling; and so sure are we they will be liked, that we agree to refund the money if any one wishes to return the machines, free of freight, after a month's trial, according to directions.

No husband, father or brother should permit the drudgery of washing with the hands, fifty-two days in the year, when it can be done better, more expeditiously, with less labor, and no injury to the garments, by a Doty Clothes Washer, and a Universal Wringer.

Canvassers with exclusive right of sale make money fast selling them.

Sold by dealers generally, to whom liberal discounts are made.

THE SENTINEL.

JOSIAH TURNER, Jr., EDITOR.

MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 6, 1869.

"GOV. HOLDEN INTERVIEWED."

One of the most extraordinary exposes of the day, is a letter in the New York Herald detailing incidents of an interview with Gov. Holden, in which the Governor declares in seeming seriousness, his political position, before, during and since the war. We cannot suppose His Excellency thought this conversation would not be published nor must the eyes of his old acquaintances and the people generally of this State, for it seems that was contemplated by both the Governor and the correspondent, when the conversation occurred. We are compelled, therefore, to fall back upon the conclusion that he struck out boldly in the line of assertion, trusting to the forgetfulness of the public, or, perhaps, its gullibility, in receiving, as matter of fact, the fictions, (to use no harsher term) of this extraordinary history of the Governor's political status in times past and present.

The first question put by the correspondent was in reference to the Governor's former secession proclivities, a question which the Governor "takes pleasure" in answering. In the answer he says "the assertion that I was an active advocate of the doctrine of secession is entirely unfounded!" No one, who was a reader of the North Carolina Standard during Governor Holden's editorship, up to the breaking out of the civil war, but must feel astounded at the boldness with which this declaration is made by a man holding a high and honorable position, and claiming the respect of his fellow creatures. In the editorials of his paper, in public addresses, and in private conversations, Governor Holden was an "active" and zealous advocate of the doctrine of the right of secession, as can be abundantly established by extracts from his paper and public addresses, from 1846 to 1860, and by hundreds of living witnesses who remember his advocacy of the doctrine of "State rights" which he held to include the right of secession, in private conversations, in party caucuses and elsewhere. In 1856, he declared in his paper that the election of Fremont would be just cause for the secession of the Southern States from the Union. In his Warrenton address he advised the training of our young men to arms preparatory to resistance against the encroachments of the General Government, resulting from abolition interference with the institutions of the South. But it is needless to refer to particulars; the teaching, force and influence of Governor Holden and his paper, for twenty years was given in favor of the doctrine of secession, "the right to withdraw from the Union for cause."

The Governor further intimates that although he "fell into the current of secession" it was with reluctance. "Men of all shades of national politics joined in it, when resistance would have been certain destruction." But the ceasing of resistance did not necessarily involve active and even vociferous advocacy of the war; but this the Governor engaged in, more arduously, unremittingly and with more apparent earnestness than almost any man in the State. If the Governor never "believed or desired its success,"—the success of a remedy he had for twenty years openly, boldly, and ably advocated, his words and his actions belied his thoughts, and he was one of the most consummate political hypocrites the world has ever produced.

There are other points in this remarkable conversation with the Herald's correspondent that exhibit equally marked contrasts between the Governor's former course and his present representation of it, but we shall allude to but one, and to that only because it throws some light on the pretensions and professions of the Standard and certain of its party, in regard to the question of general amnesty.

We all know that the Standard has become extremely liberal of late in regard to the removal of disabilities and the abrogation of the test oath. We have said we believed that the paper was acting without the concurrence of the leaders of its party in the State on that subject. We have said that the influence of Governor Holden, and the party leaders in this State, would be used with Congress to prevent the removal of political disabilities from persons proscribed in the State; and that the Standard was guilty of duplicity in representing its party in the State as favoring liberal measures towards those white citizens who are proscribed by acts of Congress.

The question was asked, "What effect, if any, have the late elections in Virginia had on the public sentiment in this State?"—The answer of the Governor fully establishes what we have said in regard to the views of the party leaders on the subject of amnesty: "No particular effect, for the reason that the people of Virginia, by their recent election, have simply placed themselves where the Republicans of North Carolina have been from the first—that is, for allowing every male citizen to vote. THIS IS WHAT I UNDERSTAND BY UNIVERSAL SUFFRAGE AND GENERAL AMNESTY." In this connection however, the Governor regrets the defeat of Wells' party, because he thinks that party "would be the best guardians of this and other great Republican principles." The Standard, it will be remembered, rejoiced at the defeat of Wells and his "extremists," but the Governor looks upon his defeat as a party calamity. The Wells party was opposed to the removal of political disabilities and in favor of enforcing the test oath on the people. They had, in Convention, framed a most proscriptive State Constitution, and in the election endeavored to fasten it on the people. In this they had the sympathy of Governor Holden, as clearly manifested in this "interview" with the Herald's correspondent.

We see clearly, by this "interview," first, that the Governor has made an effort to shake off all his old political sins, and to make the impression, at least abroad, that he was a martyr, or almost a martyr, to his great love of the Union and opposition to "States Rights" including the right of secession; and secondly, that he is with the administration and Congress in all their acts of proscription, and efforts to "make treason odious," by keeping the iron heel steadily upon the necks of Southern white men; and that he is not upon the liberal platform of the Standard, of "universal suffrage and general amnesty," except, as he understands it, namely, the simple right to all, to enjoy the ballot.

RICHMOND, Sept. 4.—The following is Hoar's opinion, received this morning by Gen. Canby:

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OFFICE, Aug. 28.

To the Hon. Jno. A. Rawlins, Secretary of War:

SIR:—I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of July 27th, 1869, in which you request my opinion upon so much of the questions, submitted in the letter of the Commanding General of the First Military District, dated on the 10th instant, and accompanying papers, copies of which are enclosed, as refers to the legal qualification of officers to be elected under the proposed Constitution of the State of Virginia; and especially upon the question whether persons elected to office in such State, under said Constitution, are required, by the supplement to the reconstruction acts of July 19th, 1867, to take and subscribe to the oath prescribed or referred to in Section 9 of said act, before entering upon the duties of their respective offices.

The latter question is the only one indicated with such distinctness as to enable me to be fully satisfied, that its purport is apprehended and I therefore confine my answer to that.

By the statute of April 10th 1869, the registered voters of Virginia were authorised to vote upon the question of the adoption of a Constitution for the State, and at the same time to elect officers under it; subject to the approval of Congress.

The vote has been taken in pursuance of the provisions of the act and the election held, and some parts of the Constitution submitted, have been adopted by the people and others rejected. The parts of the proposed Constitution thus adopted, if they shall be approved by Congress, will be the Constitution of Virginia, under which all officers will be required to act, and the qualifications as well as the duties of those officers will be determined by it.

When Virginia is restored to its proper relations to the country as a State of the Union, its officers and Legislature will be such as the Constitution of the State proposes; deriving their powers from that instrument and it will clearly not be in the power of Congress to impose any requirements of additional qualifications upon them, different from those which under the Constitution of the United States may be required in all the States. It, therefore, any tests were to be imposed upon members of the Legislature, not provided by the Constitution of Virginia, or any restriction imposed upon the people of the State in their choice of officers not recognized by it and not made applicable under the legitimate powers of Congress to all the States, the Legislature and officers would not in my opinion be the Legislature and officers of Virginia under its Constitution.

I do not see that Congress can undertake to furnish the State with a suitable Legislature to start with or to exercise any control over its composition which could not be exercised over subsequent Legislatures.

I am therefore of the opinion that the oath prescribed by the statute of 1863, and by the statute of July 1867, chapter 30 section 9, required to be taken by all persons elected or appointed to office in said Military District under any so-called State or municipal authority, is not to be required of the officers of the State of Virginia or members of the Legislature elected under the new Constitution.

It does not seem to me that the provisions of this 9th section, which are applicable to the Governor of the State under military authority, were intended to apply to the Legislature and officers under whom the State is to be restored to its proper relations with the Union; and by whom the government of the State is to be administered after its restoration. This opinion is strongly confirmed by a reference to the sections. The section of the same act which authorizes the Commander of any District named in the act, to suspend or remove from office or from the performance of official powers, any officer or person holding or exercising, or professing to hold or exercise, any civil or military office or duty in said District, under any power, election or appointment, or authority derived from, or granted by or claimed under any so called State or the government thereof, and to detail a competent officer or soldier of the army to perform such duties, it would be impossible to suppose that Congress could intend that a Legislature under a Constitution of a State could have the members appointed by a detail from soldiers of the army. The only reasonable conclusion seems to me to be that it was not intended that any such Legislature should be allowed to exist and act, until reconstruction was completed, except for the limited and qualified purposes required for reconstruction.

But on the other hand, I fully concur in the view of the General commanding in Virginia, that under the reconstruction acts of Congress, no officer or legislator is competent, or should be permitted to exercise any of the functions or powers of his office within that State, except so far as those acts themselves provide, without taking the oath which is referred to in the act of 1867, above quoted.

The act of April 10th, 1869, requires the Legislature to meet at a time which it designates; that it is to meet, implies that it must come together for some purpose. It is required under the previous law to act upon the question of adopting the 14th amendment to the Constitution of the United States, before the admission of the State to representation in Congress. I am of opinion, therefore, that it must come together, organize and act upon that amendment; but that until Congress shall have approved the Constitution and the action under it, and shall have restored the State to its proper place in the Union by recognizing its form of government as Republican, and admitting it to representation, the Legislature is not entitled, and could not, without violation of law, be allowed to transact any business, pass any act, or resolve or undertake to assume any other functions of a Legislature, if the test-oath has not been required of its members; and that no officer elected under the Constitution can enter upon the duties of his office without taking the test-oath while military government continues.

Very respectfully,
E. R. HOAR,
Attorney General.

ASHEVILLE, N. C., BUNCOMBE Co., }
August 27, 1869. }

MR. EDITOR:—One marked peculiarity of this city is, that a traveler may start from Asheville and, by continued traveling, reach any point on the globe. You see a number of travelers starting from this mountain city each day in verification of the above truth. Asheville has some 1,500 inhabitants and stands out pleasantly on several small hill tops rising from the Swananoa valley, some two or three miles below and North of the junction of this river with the French Broad. In every direction one sees the lofty Blue mountains rising as watchtowers to guard the devoted city. Leaving here Northward, you go down the French Broad, which is almost without valleys, being enclosed on each side with lofty perpendicular crags overhanging the road that winds along the banks of the river for 45 miles down to Wolf Creek, the nearest point of the Railroad in Tennessee. South of this sixty miles is Greenville, South Carolina, and nearly South, the same distance is Spartenburg, S. C., and East, the same distance is Morganton. These three last places are the nearest points to the Railroads except at Wolf Creek. Hence, this place is a mountain centre for a diameter of over one hundred miles, or in other words, Asheville is the Mecca for about twenty five counties West of Salisbury. The three Hotels here are well patronized and charge only $1.50 per day, or $25 dollars per month. The Female College here, presided over by Rev. Jas. S. Kennedy, is a well known and valuable institution, ably officered and highly prized by the Western counties in particular. It has accomplished great good for the cause of learning in North Carolina and Tennessee.

Asheville is by nature impregnably fortified; and yet one of the beautiful peaks near by is blurred by a fort thrown or placed there during the last year. As you pass out from the town eastward you go up the Swannanoa Valley—one of the most beautiful in the world. Gradually for 18 miles you ascend till you stand on the very summit of the Swannanoa Gap. One hundred and fifty feet beneath you runs the great tunnel of the W. N. C. Railroad, 1 800 feet in length. On your west the waters pass down into the Mississippi and thence into the Gulf of Mexico below New Orleans; while ten feet east of you the happy rain drops bid adieu for the Gulf on the coast of South Carolina. From the sublime height you move eastward down a narrow ravine making a descent of 1,550 feet in a little over three miles. This we make rapidly with a four horse stage, but the railroad deflecting to the North winds around the mountain sides for 7½ miles making a balloon curve and several letter S's to make the same distance forward of three miles, and to accomplish a descent of 1,400 feet or 200 feet to the mile. The engineering here is exceedingly interesting and the scenery on the road will attract many a thousand weary travelers. From the top, of the gap to the bottom of the main ascent—about six miles, there are being constructed six tunnels, but all short except the one at the top. The six aggregate 3,400 feet. It will take about two years to complete the 1,800 feet tunnel, as I am informed by Mr. Saulsbury, the contractor. By the time the tunnels are all complete, the road on this side and beyond is expected to be finished so as to connect with Tennessee.

This is a very rough but a very picturesque country, and also a rich country, the very mountain side up to the summits being covered with the most gorgeous forest, showing the richness of the soil; here is the air of which you must breathe yourself before you can realize its exuberant and exhilerating effects. There are many wayside taverns in these mountains where the languid invalid halts to regain his original vigor.

Come to the mountains as I have done, reader, and soon you may be corpulent like myself.

Yours truly,
L. BRANSON.

AN INDIAN NAME.

A lady taught for a while in the mission school of the Delaware Indians in Kansas. "What is your name?" she inquired, the first morning, of a little black eyed, dusky skinned urchin. "Superfine Best Quality Ketchum," he shouted, thinking her a little deaf. "You must be mistaken; that can't be your name." "It is ma'am—true." And he looked as proud of it as a warrior might of his feathers and paint. After school she pointed out the little fellow, and asked the missionary his name. "Superfine Best Quality Ketchum," was the grave reply, but you may be sure it was several days before her lips became so accustomed to it that she could speak it without a very perceptible smile. And the funny part was that he would never answer to anything less than the whole. She afterwards found out how it came to be given him. He was a wonderful baby—so his parents thought and their whole Indian vocabulary, added to what they had learned of the English one by three years in school, could not furnish a name that would at all compare with him. In this perplexity the father one day brought home a sack of flour on which was printed the word "Superfine." They spelled it out and were so delighted with its sound that they immediately bestowed it upon the boy. He grew up and one day a thirsty traveler was riding by and asked for a drink of water. As he handed the cup back after drinking he said, "You are a fine boy. What is your name?" "Superfine Ketchum," was the answer. "That's a grand name," he said, laughing. "Do you know what it means?" "No, sir." "Superfine means best quality, and that's the kind of boy you must be." Superfine ran into the house and told his parents, and in two minutes more Best Quality was added to his name.

AT HOME AND ABROAD.

To know an individual thoroughly, it is often necessary to be familiar with him both at home and abroad. Many persons appear to be possessed of a sort of double nature—one to be exhibited at home, the other abroad. Some of the very brightest faces in company, are the gloomy face of disagreeable frowns in their own family circle. They deal very liberally in criticisms, lectures, complaints and commands under the shadow of their own roof, but are abundant in pleasant rides, gallant compliments and genial courtesies among those who are not so unfortunate as to be constantly associated with them. They are as uncalculating in the tasks they impose on the gentle inmates of their homes as they are in the efforts they make to be polite towards others and to prevent other ladies from doing the easiest and lightest offices. At home they are utterly forgetful of the truth that mud is no ornament to the floor—and no proper paint for the carpet; that when the table has been served with the best that the good wife can provide as to variety and quality, it should be sweetened with gratitude and garnished with kindly smiles and cheerful compliments. They seem not to think that their children should ever be entertained with little attentions and made the glad recipients of kindness and toys.—But when they call upon certain esteemed neighbors, they tax their finest boots with ultra scraping at the door, wreathe the homeliest dishes with extravagant praises, and fondle the crossest, and kiss the ugliest children, as though they were perfect little cherubs. Alas! that faithful woman and innocent children should ever be afflicted with such a fearful enemy to genuine domestic peace and enjoyment! These social hypocrites are probably ignorant of the great loss they are inflicting upon their own pleasure, and never learn that golden lesson in social ethics, that the happiest man is he whose home is the happiest.

There are others who affect and maintain the character of gentlemen where they are well known, and consider themselves licensed to suspend courtesy and etiquette when they travel among strangers. They will smoke, if allowed, in the presence of the delicate; they will eject saliva on the floors of cars and churches, where they know that ladies must sit or kneel; they will drink the only glass of water; they will press into the most comfortable places; they will pretend not to see ladies when they enter a coach or church, and stand waiting for a seat; they will even indulge in profanity and vulgarity in the presence of the refined of both sexes.

Now, both of these classes are to be accounted for upon grounds which do not excuse them. The former cannot put the burden of their domestic guilt upon the example of the accomplished French, who win a world-wide reputation for politeness by playing the social Pharisee—without and abroad, all devotion, within and at home, all neglect;—nor can the latter class charge their social obliquity to the customs of phlegmatic Englishmen who will keep the inner cents of a stage-coach, though thereby they force a delicate woman to ride outside, and in the rain. The truth is, men are thus unfaithful for the want of genuine principle. If they are possessed of sound integrity, they will maintain their identity in character as well as in person, both at home and abroad. They will then respect woman as much when dressed in homespun as when decked in the ornaments of fashion, and serve her as promptly and cheerfully in the railroad coach as in the parlor.

Apropos to our subject we find the following in a late number of Moore's New Yorker from a Northern pen: "The general demeanor of Southern gentlemen towards women is much more respectful, courteous and gratifying than that evinced by Northerners. In the North, 'good clothes' is quite sure to insure civility and courtesy. In the South, a man never fails to remember that a woman is a woman, no matter what her costume may be." It is amusing to see how this writer accounts for this difference. It is declared to be "wholly in training, and not in relative goodness." It is remarkable that the idea did not occur that training has a great deal to do with relative goodness in this word, both as effect and cause. Some time ago a friend of ours, riding in a street car in New York, observing a lady enter when the seats were all occupied, quickly tendered his. She, evidently surprised at such an act, declined to accept, until he politely urged her to do so. In reply to her evident surprise, he spoke so that all heard him: "I am from a place where no man pretends to be a gentlemen unless he gives attention and preference to woman. I am from that terrible and much abused place—Charleston."

MENTOR.

THE MUDDLE IN MOORE COUNTY.—The disagreement in Moore County between the board of County Commissioners and Sheriff K. H. Worthy continues to excite profound interest, not only amongst the parties to the quarrel but also amongst their respective adherents. It will be remembered that Sheriff Worthy was elected by the people; but, being it was supposed, under the bar of the Howard Amendment, was denied the right to qualify by the Commissioners, who appointed Robt. W. Barrett in his stead; that Sheriff Worthy sued out a writ of mandamus before Judge Buxton who decided that the Commissioners must qualify him upon the tender of sufficient bond; that the Commissioners appealed to the the Supreme Court; that the Supreme Court over-ruled Judge Buxton's decision; and that then Sheriff Worthy, claiming that a U. S. Court only could properly construe a U. S. Statute, appealed to the Federal Court where the matter is now pending. In the interval, Judge Buxton has recognized Worthy as Sheriff; the commissioners persistently recognized Barrett. At the opening of Court at Carthage last week the dispute was definitely settled for the present by Judge Buxton, who charged the Grand Jury that K. H. Worthy was the legal Sheriff, and that no one else must be recognized in that capacity until the final adjudication of the question of law at issue—namely, whether a Sheriff is an Executive or Judicial officer, within the meaning of the 14th Amendment of the Federal Constitution.—Fayetteville Eagle, Sept. 2nd.

THE TOBACCO CROP.—About seventy-five per cent. of the tobacco crop is produced in five States. Unlike the crops of wheat and corn which are grown throughout the country, particularly in the West, where the yield is enormous, a failure of the tobacco crop in Virginia, North Carolina, Tennessee, Kentucky and Maryland, would affect the price of this staple very materially in the commercial centres.

The indications in Virginia, which raised thirty per cent. of the crop in 1867, and in North Carolina, are that the yield will be reduced one-half.

In Tennessee and Kentucky, we believe the season has not been as favorably as usual. So that, as we have said, a material reduction of the crops in these largely tobacco producing States, will tend to elevate prices, and this will be the result in reference to the tobacco crop, we think if reasonable to conclude.

Tobacco is now active. During the past week in New York, Kentucky leaf was held for an advance and manufactured tobacco was in brisk demand and buoyant.—Pet. Index

It is stated to be the medal given as a souvenir by the monarch to Bishop Juxon a few moments before his execution on the scaffold at Whitehall.

Agriculturists in California are turning their attention to the raising of opium. The poppy plant, it is found, will grow there almost without cultivation, and the gathering of the juice of the heads, of which opium consists, is as simple an operation as the making of maple sugar. Raw opium is worth about $20 a pound. It will be seen that the pecuniary inducements to embark in the business are very great. But then comes up the moral question involved in it. The principal use of the drug is that of producing intoxication, and the chief market for it is China, where it is as great a scourge as whisky is here. Would the money made out of the insane appetite of the miserable Chinese opium eaters and smokers be such as a decent man would like to pocket?

Hand-Book for County Officers:
A GUIDE FOR JUSTICES OF THE PEACE AND OTHER COUNTY OFFICIALS.

REVISED, ENLARGED AND IMPROVED!

THE SECOND EDITION of this work, greatly enlarged and improved, will be ready for delivery to subscribers on the 10th of September. It has been delayed thus long, in order to add to its usefulness, by publishing relating in any manner to County Officers, or County Police.

ALL THE ACTS OF THE LAST SESSION OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY,

The Publishers have spared no expense in getting up this edition; the text and the forms being carefully prepared and arranged by a member of the Raleigh Bar, of acknowledged ability, and great experience in preparing legal forms and codifying laws.

Justices of the Peace, Judges of Probate, Sheriffs, and all other County Officers, will find in the HAND-BOOK the law prescribing their powers and respective duties, together with forms and precedents necessary to a proper and systematic discharge of their duties. No Justice of the Peace, or other County Officer of ordinary intelligence can possibly err, or fail to fill his office with credit to himself, who will make the HAND-BOOK his guide, however inexperienced he may be in the practice, procedure and forms of law. The edition contains over THREE HUNDRED LARGE-SIZED PAGES of closely printed matter, on good paper, with a table of contents and a full and exhaustive index to the text, and over inserted with the text, and immediately following the provisions of the law to which they apply.

Two Hundred and Fifty Forms,

In order to place the Book within the reach of every officer and business man in the State, the publishers offer the same at the following reasonable prices:

One Copy, in paper cover,	$2.00
" " cloth.	2 25
" " law binding.	2.50

When sent by mail 25 cents must be added.

Upon receipt of price, the book will be at once mailed or sent by express, as subscribers may direct. Address

NICHOLS & GORMAN,
Book and Job Printers,
Raleigh, N. C.

☞ All kinds of legal blank forms furnished to order, and Job Printing of every description neatly, cheaply and expeditiously executed.

Editors publishing the above, and sending a marked copy of paper to the publishers, will receive a copy of the "Hand-Book" in law binding.

GLASS SPECTACLES,

Superior to any other in use—constructed in accordance with the science and philosophy of nature, in the peculiar form of

A CONCAVE CONVEX ELLIPSIS,

Admirably adapted to the organs of sight, and perfectly natural to the eye, affording altogether the best artificial help to the human vision ever invented. Used only by

MORRIS BERNHARDT,

SPECTACLE & OPTICAL MANUFACTURER.

THE ADVANTAGES of these Spectacles over all others are:

1. They can be worn with perfect ease for any length of time at one sitting, giving astonishing clearness of vision, by candle or any other artificial light, comfort to the spectacle-wearer hitherto unknown.

2. How to select Glasses. It requires professional guidance even when a good article is offered. Dr. Bernhardt not only has the best Glasses that can be found in the market, but carefully examines the eyes of his patients, and gives indispensable advice as to the proper selection of them.

3. When the eyes ache or pain through the action of a bright light, such as is reflected from the snow, sunny weather, white paper, and in reading, writing or sewing, or vivid colored bodies; these lenses, by softening the rays, effect a most agreeable sensation and give great relief, if not cure.

4. These spectacles are scientifically adjusted to every case of defective sight with unerring accuracy, whether arising from age, strain, over work, or premature decay, by Dr Bernhardt on a new and exact principle, entirely his own, which has seldom failed to be correct.

5. After several years of public practice adjusting spectacles to patients under every aspect of defective vision, as well as experience in an extensive, long established business in his Optical Stores, both here and in Europe, Dr. Bernhardt considers it a sufficient guarantee of his ability to supply such glasses as are best calculated for the assistance of imperfect sight.

6. M. Bernhardt, to signalize himself from the host of pretenders in his profession, with pride submits for inspection, copies of testimonials he has received from medical gentlemen of the most unquestionable respectability and talent in America; also a number of certificates from well known gentlemen of distinction who have used his spectacles—the originals of all which he will be happy to show to those who may request it. The use of any of the following names or certificates hereunto affixed, without an actual possession of the same, would be a forgery, a capital offence, punishable by State imprisonment.

Testimony of Recommendations from Medical Gentlemen, Professors of the highest Opthalmic talent in Raleigh, N. C., and in the Union.

Raleigh, Aug 24, 1869.

I have carefully examined Prof. Bernhardt's Spectacles, and take great pleasure in recommending him to those who, having defective vision, can be made to see more clearly and distinctly by the use of glasses. He has wonderful skill in this respect. The pair he has supplied me with are of Brazilian Pebble, of most superior quality and excellent finish. They enable me to see how to read or write, at the ordinary focal distance, as clearly and distinctly as I did twenty years ago. I very cheerfully bear testimony both to the Professor's skill and to the wonderful properties of his glasses.

CHAS. E. JOHNSON, M. D.

Raleigh, N. C., Aug. 24, 1869.

I take great pleasure in saying that the Glasses I have obtained (and am now using) from Dr. M. Bernhart are to me a source of greater comfort than any I have previously used; my own experience fully sustaining the testimonials of excellence and commendation which he has received from gentlemen of science, and high character, in various parts of our country.

WM. G. HILL, M. D.

Raleigh, N. C., Aug 24, 1869.

I take pleasure in stating that I have examined the glasses of M. Bernhardt, Oculist and Optician, and think they are of the best material, and constructed on scientific principles. I would advise those in need of glasses to call on him.

Very respectfully,
F. J. HAYWOOD, M. D.

Raleigh, Aug. 24, 1869.

Doctor Bernhardt called at my house and exhibited to me his fine assortment of Australian Crystal Glasses, which are of a very superior quality and workmanship. I take pleasure in saying that the glasses I have obtained from Professor Bernhardt are to me a source of greater comfort than any I have previously worn and cheerfully commend them to those who may be in need of glasses.

W. H. McKEE, M. D.

Raleigh, Aug 25, 1869.

After an attentive examination of the various glasses in the possession of Dr. M. Bernhardt, accompanied with his explanation of his mode of preparing and adjusting them, it is with great pleasure I state my belief of his great skill, and of the benefit which those needing glasses must derive from his assistance.

R. S. MASON, D. D.,
Pastor Prot. Episcopal Church.

Raleigh, Aug 25, 1869.

Dr. M. Bernhardt, Oculist and Optician, has fitted me with a pair of Spectacles superior to any article of the kind I ever had before. The material is Australian Crystal, the quality of which renders vision very clear and distinct, and enables me to read and write with as much ease as I did ten or twelve years ago. His assortment of glasses is most complete and the finish apparently perfect. I take great pleasure in recommending him to all who need their sight improved.

DRURY LACY, D. D.,
Late Pres't. of Davidson College, N. C.

Raleigh, Aug. 26, 1869.

It gives me pleasure to bear witness to the extraordinary value and excellence of the glasses prepared and furnished by Prof. Bernhardt. To those who need artificial aid for their vision he will be of the highest service.

J. M. ATKINSON,
Pastor of the Presbyterian Church.

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
Raleigh, March 28, 1866.

I have examined a large number of the glasses of Prof. M. Bernhardt, and with pleasure certify to their superior excellence. I wear a pair of them and see as perfectly as I could in my youth. They are the best I ever used, and I therefore heartily recommend him to the patronage of the public.

JONATHAN WORTH,
Governor of North Carolina.

State of South Carolina,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
Columbia, June 19th, 1866.

Sir: I have made a full and satisfactory test of the Spectacles procured from you, and I have the pleasure to say that the glasses are better adapted to my eyes than any I have ever used. The facility with which you fitted the glasses to my eyes, furnished me conclusive evidence of your scientific skill in optics and your thorough experience as an Oculist.

Your attainments in your profession entitle you to the confidence, patronage and gratitude of the public.

I have the honor to be,
Very respectfully yours,
JAMES L. ORR,
Governor of South Carolina.
Prof. MORRIS BERNHARDT, Charleston, S. C.

Wilmington, March 31, 1866.

I have examined a number of Professor Bernhardt's Glasses and am now using a pair of them, and take pleasure in testifying that they enable me to see better than any others that I have used, while in his collection there seem to be some adapted to remedy any kind of defect in vision.

THOMAS ATKINSON,
Bishop of North Carolina.

Nashville, April 27, 1867.

The difference between Dr. Bernhardt and most Opticians is, according to my observation, that what they pretend to more than they know, he knows more of his business than he professes.

W. K. BOWLING, M. D.

Testimonials similar to the above may be seen at Dr. Bernhardt's office, from the most reliable and well-known gentlemen of the United States, among whom are:

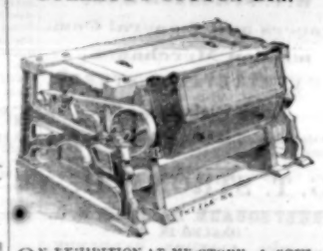
GULLETT'S COTTON GIN.



ON EXHIBITION AT MY STORE, A "GULLETT'S STEEL BRUSH GIN."

The Gin is of a very superior style of workmanship, gins more Cotton in a given time than any Gin of the same number of saws; picks the seed cleaner; leaves no motes or nap; does not waste the lint by throwing it over the walls of the room where it is being ginned; does not cut the lint, but brings it out in beautiful bats.

Planters desiring Gins would do well to buy one of Gullett's, as each one is guaranteed, and if it does not have the advantages, over other Gins, named in this advertisement, after fair trial, it will be no sale.

The "Gullett Gin" has been awarded the Premium at the several STATE FAIRS of Louisiana, Alabama and Mississippi.

I am Agent for its sale and would be pleased to fill orders.

ANOTHER NEW ENTERPRISE.—Messrs. Betts, Vaughn & Allen are erecting, on the lot known as Page's Wood and Lumber Yard, at the western extremity of Edenton Street, between Western Street and the R. & G. Railroad, a new Sash, Door and Blind Factory. The machinery will be run by a twenty horse power engine, and will consist of a machine for planing, tonguing and grooving plank, one for sash and moulding, one for tenoning, one for scroll work, one for ripping and one for cutting off, and a Daniel's Planer, for heavy work.

The gentlemen engaged in this enterprise are all practical men, ingenious, industrious and reliable mechanics, and of just the sort to push any business they undertake to a success. They will prepare the timbers for any sort of a building, from a stable to a palatial residence, and then attend to the putting them together in workmanlike manner. They will be prepared for operations in a few days, when the public will hear from them personally.

OYSTERS ASHORE.—Small quantities of oysters have been discovered high and dry about Wilmington (market.)

RAN AWAY.—A horse attached to a buggy, from the Livery Stables of Wynne & Co., while being driven out for practice, on Saturday, dashed off, in consequence of the breaking of a wheel of the buggy, and ran from near the Governor's mansion (as used to be) to the stables. The horse was considerably damaged and the buggy made a general wreck.

NEW GOODS.—We saw drays with packages of new goods passing through the streets on Saturday, but did not learn for what house they were destined. These, we presume, are goods sent on in advance by some of our merchants now on a purchasing tour North.

FINISHING OFF.—The masons were busy, on Saturday, re-setting the curb stones and laying the glass flagging on the Street and Market Square fronts of Holleman's new Store. This work, when completed, will finish up the establishment, and leave it ready for the new stock of goods and flocks of customers that Messrs. Gully & Bynum will soon have in it.

The tall window frames for the second story of the market house were reared up on the north side, on Saturday. So progresses the improvements.

W. C. & R. RAILROAD.—The Superintendent of the Eastern Division of this Road, Capt. Everett, encourages the good people of Anson by the information that cars will run to the Riverside in a week or two, and that there is no doubt they will cross the river and reach Lilesville by Christmas.

THE IRON HEEL.—Mr. J. H. Galloway, Senator from New Hanover, received, on Saturday from Wilmington, a cast-iron heel, representing a shoe-heel and a part of the sole, with a nice silver label riveted to it, with an appropriate inscripton, sent as a mark of respect, and an emblem of final triumph in the cause of justice, from artificers at Wilmington to Col. J. L. Harris, Superintendent of Public Works. The symbol is unique and expresive, intended to intimate that Col. Harris will triumph in the contest waged against him by Gov. Holden and "the Ring," and figuratively place his heel upon the neck of his enemies.

SIGHT RESTORED.—Dr. Reinhardt, the celebrated Optician and Oculist, has met with remarkable success in his community. Many prominent citizens and a great number of afflicted persons in all classes have applied to him for relief, and in every instance the unequalled glasses which he furnishes has been pronounced to be perfection itself. Some who have been groping in almost absolute darkness, which all ordinary spectacles failed to relieve have been enabled not only to see clearly, but to read even the finest print with ease and without the least discomfort. All who have applied to him have been suited exctly. He will remain only a short time and all who need the services of a superior Optician should call speedily at the Yrborough House, Room No. 15.

A branch railroad from Warsaw on the W. & W. Railroad to Clinton, is agitated. There is to be a meeting of the citizens of Sampson at Clinton, on the 21st inst., to consider the subject.

The Roanoke News, a very great favorite in our exchange list, entered on its third year with Saturday's issue. May it flourish till it shall be spoken of as "one of the oldest papers in the State" and its editors alluded to as "the venerable editors of the News."

We learn from the Roanoke News that the farmers and business men of the counties round about Weldon, have determined to form an Agricultural Society, but owing to the lateness of the season, decide the idea of a Fair this year. From the names of those who figured in the meeting we augur for the enterprise a gratifying success.

LENOIR COUNTY PRISONERS—EXAMINATION ON FRIDAY.—Only two witnesses were examined on Friday, E. Hubbs and D. D. Colgrove. Their testimony was in regard to the late Sheriff Colgrove being killed.

The prisoners, Benj. Jones, Franklin Hill, Everett Hill, Egbert Hill, A. Monroe, Jefferson Perry and Jack Parker, were each admitted to bail, by His Honor, Judge Thomas, in a bond of $1,000 to appear at the next term of Lenoir County County Superior Court, and $1,000 to keep the peace for twelve months towards G. W. Tillou, Joseph P. Parrott, Joseph Lassiter, and all other citizens of the State.

Col. Clarke then stated that Mr. Jesse C. Kennedy was present, and would waive an examination and desired that the evidence already given against the conspirators be read to him and see if he assented to it.

Judge Thomas stated that Mr. Kennedy was not on trial before him—that there was no warrant for him.

A warrant was therefore made out and served on him and his examination set for Saturday morning, to which time the Court adjourned.

CHURCH DIRECTORY.—Some one has inquired why we do not publish, on Saturday, a church directory of services on Sunday, as formerly. We answer, for the reason that it is too much trouble to go round to all the pastors and get the appointments, and when published without doing this, they were as often wrong as right. If furnished with the necessary information, we would willingly publish it.

CHERAW AND SALISBURY RAILROAD.—The Wadesboro' Argus, in reference to this Road, says:

"We are glad to inform the reader, on the assurance of a well-informed gentleman of Cheraw, that the work on this Road is commenced in earnest. He thinks there is no doubt but that it will reach Wadesboro' in due time.

We think, too, it would be to the interest of the Greensboro' Railroad Company to push their Road to this point, and here make intersection with our Roads, striking off to every point of the country."

SUMAC.—Mr. Alex. MacRae, of Liverpool, under the head of American Sumac, calls the attention of the people of this country to a very valuable product of our soil which is almost totally neglected. He says: "Very little progress has been made in this valuable product, and we are without any supplies. The low price quoted in American cities for this most saleable article, evidences that the ablest care is not administered in the gathering and manufacture, which is a pity when a remuneration of 120 dollars a ton or more, awaits it in this.

Everybody knows what Sumac is. In some portions of the South it grows spontaneously in abundance. In very good soil it grows to the height of ten or twelve feet, and in large thickets. In the fall it has thick clusters of berries of a red color, and sticky, with a kind of greasy tar to the touch."

Whether it is only the berries or the entire plant that brings such prices we are not aware; but in either case money could be made by it.

Could not our Southern people make this trafic in Sumac make up amply for the short crops this year?

The surroundings of almost every farm would furnish several tons, which, gathered and shipped, would bring in a good supply of money amongst us.—Wadesboro Argus.

WHO OWNS HIM? HOW CERTAIN REVENUE OFFICERS ARE MANAGED.—I heard a capital story told with regard to the control obtained over the revenue officers—storekeepers, I believe—by the distiller in whose establishment they are placed. The story comes to me from one who knows, and is an apt illustration of the recent "penny wise and pound foolish" policy which has cut down the pay of assistant assessors and other officials. A supervisor in New York recently removed one of these officers from one distillery to another. Perhaps he suspected collusion, but if so said nothing.—The distiller was a German, we'll call him Mr. Schmidt. He waited on the Supervisor and began an interesting conversation with,

"Var for you move Mr. Shones? You tinks I own him, eh? Suppose I does, hows you going to help it? I own the t'other man you sends," &c.

'Quite likely," was the Supervisor's reply; "but then I'll move him."

'Vell, you can't help it. I own them all. Does you vant to know how it's done?—Vell, I tells you. Saturday's come—I say to Shones, 'You got a wife, eh? Live in a tenement house? He says 'Yes.' I says, 'Does you ever goes to de Park and take de family for a drive? Never take the wife to opera, eh?' He says 'No.' 'Like to?' I says, 'Yes,' he says. 'Well,' I says, 'take that letter to your vife.' He goes home and says, 'Vife, here's a letter a shentleman sends you.' She wonders what it is, opens it and there's von, two, three, six von hundred dollar greenbacks—all new. They never see so much money before. They go to the Park and buy lot of tings for children. You pay him four dollars a day. I give him six hundred a week. Who owns him—you or me? How are you going to help? I do not say anything to him. I only send de envelope to his wife. He likes to own horse and buggy, house of his own and enjoy himself. How, can you prevent it?"

Mr. Schmidt was frank, for the foregoing is substantially true. Can the government expect to be faithfully served in important positions of trust when it pays insufficient wages and offers no career or security of position to honesty and integrity?

A REPORTING MACHINE.

M. Gensoul, an ingenious Frenchman, has invented a "stenographic press." The reporter sits at something like the keyboard of a piano forte, and by applying his fingers to the keys, prints the words as they drop from the lips of the speaker, syllable by syllable, on a strip of paper which rolls along underneath. When we say this we do not of course mean that the words are printed in letters. The keyboard appears to be divided into three parts of eight keys each. The left side, worked by the four fingers of the left hand, prints signs which represent initial consonants; the right worked by the fingers of the right hand, prints final consonants; and the middle, acted on by the two thumbs, prints the medium vowels. We gather that something like a phonetic system of signs is employed. A few months' practice is said to enable any operator to follow the most fluent speaker with ease. We ought to say that M. Gensoul's system renders it unnecessary to transcribe the copy. Just as with the phonetic system, if legibly written, the compositor can set up the speech in common type, from the printed slip furnished by the machine. As to the comparative ease of writing characters with a pen, and printing them in the way here described, we can give no opinion.

While Thad. Stevens was a young lawyer, he once had a case before a bad-tempered Judge of an obscure Pennsylvania Court. Under what he considered a very erroneous ruling, it was decided against him; whereupon he threw down his books and picked up his hat in a high state of indignation, and was about to leave the court-room, scattering imprecations all around him. The Judge straightened himself to his full height, assumed an air of offended majesty, and asked Thad. if he meant "to express his contempt for this Court?" Thad. turned to him very deferentially, made a respectful bow, and replied, in feigned amazement, "Express my contempt for this Court! No, sir! I am try to conceal it, your Honor," adding, as he turned to leave, "but I find it d—d hard to do it."

HISTORY OF A PAIR OF STOCKINGS.—There is a very respectable lady now living in Jacksonville, Ill., who has a pair of stockings that her father bought in Springfield, Ill., for her to be married in. She, her sister-in-law, and four of her daughters were all married in the self same pair of stockings. She yet has a beautiful and blooming unmarried daughter, who declares that she, too, will stand as a bride in the same dear old stockings, provided she gets married before the death of her mother—who, by the way, is carefully preserving them to be buried in. The lady says this is the only pair of stockings she ever had that were bought from a store. She also says she has raised the cotton, and carded, spun and knit all the stockings for herself, her husband, and all their children. That pair of stockings cost one dollar and thirty cents, forty years ago.

Pretty Women. A comparatively few Ladies monopolize the Beauty as well as the attention of Society. This ought not to be so, but it is; and will be while men are foolish and single out pretty faces for companions.
This can all be changed by using Hagan's Magnolia Balm, which gives the Bloom of Youth and a refined sparkling Beauty to the Complexion, pleasing powerful and natural.
No lady need complain of a red, tanned, freckled or rustic Complexion who will invest seventy-five cents in Hagan's Magnolia Balm. Its effects are truly wonderful. To Preserve and Dress the Hair use Lyon's Kathairon. aug. 28. 1m Amount of Assets $12,000,000.00.

DIVISIBLE SURPLUS $2,675,999.48,
AND CONSTANTLY INCREASING.

ALL THE SURPLUS OF THE COMPANY DIVIDED AMONG THE ASSURED.

DIVIDENDS DECLARED AND PAID ANNUALLY ON THE CONTRIBUTION PLAN.

ALL POLICIES (AFTER TWO FULL PAYMENTS) NON-FORFEITABLE, AND SO EXPRESSED ON EACH POLICY.

No Restrictions as to Residence and Travel in the United States.

RATES LOWER THAN ANY OTHER COMPANY THAT PAYS DIVIDENDS TO POLICY-HOLDERS.

IT ISSUES ALL THE VARIOUS FORMS OF LIFE AND ENDOWMENT POLICIES.

LOSSES PAID PROMPTLY IN CASH.

☞ $5,000 ready to pay a loss of No. 34,161, so soon as the party authorized to receive the money appears.
The Company has been well tested throughout the State, as to its promptness in paying her losses, reliability, &c.

DIVIDENDS PAID AT THE END OF THE FIRST YEAR, AND ANNUALLY THEREAFTER.

Its ratio of expense to income is extremely low. This may be seen by reference to the Official Reports for 1868. For example:

EXPENSE ON THE $100 RECEIVED.

KNICKERBOCKER,	$16,54
EQUITABLE,	17,44
NORTH AMERICA,	21,16
BROOKLYN,	21,09
UNIVERSAL,	27,24
JOHN HANCOCK,	18,27
THE NATIONAL,	63,48
THE ÆTNA,	13,41

It has an IMPORTANT NEW FEATURE that has been copy-righted. According to this plan the rates are MUCH LOWER than in any other Company in the world.
Its ratio of Mortality is low. Its rates are very low. Its expenses are very low. Its dividends are large.
It insured more lives in the City of New York in 1868, than any other Company, except one. It insured more Policies in the United States than any other save one. It insured more lives in Canada than any other Company, British or American.
See what the HIGHEST INSURANCE AUTHORITY in this country says. In the June number of the Insurance Times, of New York, the following opinion was expressed:

"If there is any great benefit in mutual association, any great advantage to be derived from scientific organization and a chartered source, tending to mitigate the sufferings, lessen the privations, and add to the peace, security, and happiness of humanity, we are prepared to show that these blessings flow, in all their fullness and purity, from this excellent, powerful, and flourishing Company, the ÆTNA LIFE, of Hartford."

"No institution has brought more prompt, full, and grateful relief to the hearths of the bereaved and desolate, and none has been more uniformly distinguished for the enterprise, wisdom, and equitable liberality with which it has fulfilled the purposes of its formation."

"Its success has been almost unbounded and beyond all precedent. Eight years ago, in 1861, it issued only 589 policies, received as income of seventy-eight thousand dollars, and possessed nett assets summing up to something over two hundred and eighty-one thousand dollars; but last year, 1868, it granted 15,257 new policies, more than any other Company except the Mutual Life; received as income exceeding six million dollars, and had amassed solid, securely and profitably invested nett assets amounting to over Ten Million Three Hundred and Fifty Thousand Dollars. All this wonderful ratio of growth has been sustained in 1869."

A QUEER OLD LADY.

One of the best writers in America makes a good picture of a popular old lady. Will our young readers tell us what her name is?

How different people appear at different times, as when we are sick or well, rejoicing or mourning, laughing or weeping.—A few days since I met an old lady who nodded very familiarly to me, and yet I hesitated to call her by name, lest I should miscall it—looked old, and yet young, soft and smiling, and yet wore stern frowns.—She was fair in face, yet her hands were iron. It seemed as if the wind would blow her away, and yet she moved with the strength of an elephant.

"Why sir," said she "you seem to stare at me, though you have seen me a thousand times before."

"That may be, madam, but I never saw you loaded down with all sorts of things I am curious to know about them. Would it be rude to ask you a few questions?"

"Not at all. Ask away."

"Well, what are you going to do with those small, thin, ladies' shoes?"

"Why, make the ladies wear them to be sure."

"Not this cold wet season? Why, I can hardly keep my feet warm in those thick, double soled boots. I must have over-shoes. How can they wear such thin cold catching shoes?"

"Oh, sir, I have only to bring them to them and the dear creatures put them on, and never hesitate a moment. They know me."

"And those little half dresses hanging on your arm?"

"They are put on little children in cold weather, or to walk out in—naked at the knees, naked at the neck, and hardly covering half the body. You can't think how eager parents are for these dresses."

"What have you in that little tin box?"

"Lozenges, sir; troches, horehound candy; things that always go with thin shoes and thin dresses. And this bright red box, sir, contains what is called conscience salve, which I always keep on hand to rub the conscience when any one sees they have done wrong in obeying me. It's in great demand sir, and a certain cure."

"What have you in that bundle, madam?"

"This? Why a few knick-knacks, which I sometimes distribute in Sabbath-schools, in the shape of dialogues, speeches—things to make the people laugh and to prevent the schools from feeling too serious, or thinking too much about religion. You must understand, sir, that I continually have to attend church to regulate things there—to see that the bonnets are right, and the dresses complete; yet religion itself I hate as poison! And here is a box of the finest—what shall I call it? It is a sort of wit and sauciness which I deal out to preachers, with which they spice their sermons, and become popular. I sell them by the gross. They are growing in demand, and I they are a real saving of conscience and head ache. Warranted to keep in all climates—a kind of sensation powder."

"Pray madam what are those screws for?"

"Why, to pinch the feet and make them look small, without regard to corns or bunions. They can't wear these dear little s—s except they have those pinchers to go with them."

"And that great heap of books in your arms?"

"Those? They are the latest, most exciting, and the weakest, most silly novels.—But I hand them out, and shake my head with a smile, and crowds read them."

"Well, madam, I am very inquisitive, I know, but I do want to know what you have in that great bag thrown over your shoulder?"

"A great variety of valuables, such things as 'late suppers,' in great demand, and which sends people to the grave early, and thus makes room for more. Here are 'late hours,' and 'late rising,' and all manner of hairdressing and expensive dress-ing—things that ladies must have, even if their husbands fail. Here are diamond pins and rings—just the things to stir up envy and create extravagance. Here are gold watches, cigars, meerchaum pipes, gold head canes, eye glasses, and all manner of things to suit all kinds of people. And I laugh and coax, and frown and command till I get them to wear and use them, and do just what I please. Now I have to talk with you a few moments don't you see what a crowd have gathered around me—low necks, thin shoes, muslin dresses, tight boots; some on crutches, some crouching, some breathing short, all crowding to get near me; and when I move you will see how they all run and rush and crowd after me. O, sir, I am the great power of the world. I rule kings and queens, beggars and philosophers. Don't you see?"

"Truly, madam, truly. And now may I ask your name?"

"Name? Fashion, sir; my name is Mrs. Prevailing Fashion! I thought everybody knew me."

AN IMPERIAL SUGGESTION.

The New York Imperialist, the organ of monarchy in this country, is extremely partial to Gen. Grant. It must see that he hasn't talent enough to be a decent President, but it evidently has no doubt that he would do very well as Emperor of King.—It is quite ferocious against the papers that dare to take him to task for his ridiculous movements through the country. It says: "Tis time those snarling pests were muzzled; true they cannot bite, but it would be well if their miserable propensity to bark were summarily put a stop to." The monarchical organ does not tell us in what way it would have a stop put to what it calls "the barking" of the Democratic press against the high functionary whom it would make the Lord's Anointed, but no doubt it would have the breath that "furnishes forth" the bark cut off at the wind pipe. Its chief reliance is avowedly upon the "Grand Army of the Republic," which, although denounced by the New York Tribune and other respectable Radical organs as a treasonable organization, claims to consist of nearly half a million of armed and oath bound men and has the confidence and support of the Grant administration.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Koskoo!

THE GREAT REPUTATION

Which KOSKOO has attained in all parts of the Country

AS A GREAT AND GOOD MEDICINE,

has induced Dr. Lawrence to ENLARGE HIS LABORATORY and FACILITIES for MANUFACTURING, so as to be enabled to supply the extraordinary demand for it.

THE LARGE NUMBER OF TESTIMONIALS which are constantly being received from Physicians, and persons WHO HAVE BEEN CURED by its use, is CONCLUSIVE PROOF of its REMARKABLE VALUE.

As a BLOOD PURIFIER, it HAS NO EQUAL,

BEING POSITIVELY THE

Most Powerful Vegetable Alterative

YET DISCOVERED!

DISEASES OF THE BLOOD.

"The life of the flesh is in the Blood," is a Scriptural maxim that science proves to be true. The people talk of bad blood, as the cause of many diseases and like many popular opinions, this of bad blood is founded in truth. To say nothing of those humors that are hereditary, we can easily see how the Blood may become bad from imperfect Digestion or failure of excretion and how this may influence the process of Nutrition, and thus influence all the functional activities of the body.

The symptoms of bad blood are usually quite plain—bad Digestion—causes imperfect nutrition, and consequently the circulation is feeble, the soft tissues lose their tone and elasticity, and the tongue becomes pale, broad, and frequently covered with a pasty, white coat. This condition soon shows itself in roughness of the skin, then in ERUPTIVE and ULCERATIVE diseases, and when long continued, results in serious lesions of the Brain, Liver, Lungs, or urinary apparatus. Much, very much, suffering is caused by impure blood. It is estimated by some that one-fifth of the human family are afflicted with scrofula in some form.

Persons suffering from any bad humor are very liable to have it settle on the Lungs or some other vital organ. The only safe rule is to remove the Blood poison at once, before it settles itself upon some vital point.

When the Blood is pure, you are not so liable to any disease. Many impurities of the Blood arise from impure diseases of large cities. Eradicate every impurity from the fountain of life, and good spirits, fair skin and vital strength will return to you.

KOSKOO!

AS A

LIVER INVIGORATOR!

STANDS UNRIVALLED.

BEING THE ONLY KNOWN MEDICINE that EFFICIENTLY stimulates and CORRECTS the hepatic secretions and functional DERANGEMENTS of the LIVER, without debilitating the system. While it acts purely upon the Liver instead of COPIOUS PURGING, it gradually changes the discharges to a PERFECTLY NATURAL STATE.

SYMPTOMS OF LIVER COMPLAINT AND OF SOME OF THOSE DISEASES PRODUCED BY IT.

A sallow or yellow color of the skin, or yellowish-brown spots on the face and other parts of the body; dullness and drowsiness, sometimes headache; bitter or bad taste in the mouth, internal heat; in many cases a dry, teasing cough; unsteady appetite; sometimes sour stomach, with a rising of the food; a bloated or full feeling about the stomach and sides; aggravating pains in the sides, back, or breast, and about the shoulders; constipation of the bowels; piles, flatulence, coldness of the extremities, &c.

KOSKOO!

Is a remedy of WONDERFUL EFFICACY in the cure of diseases of the KIDNEYS and BLADDER. In these affections it is as near A SPECIFIC as ANY remedy can be. It does its work KINDLY, SILENTLY, and SURELY. The RELIEF which it affords is both CERTAIN and PERCEPTIBLE.

DISEASES OF THE KIDNEYS AND BLADDER.

Persons unacquainted with the structure and functions of the Kidneys cannot estimate the IMPORTANCE of their healthy action.

Regular and sufficient action of the Kidneys is as important, nay, even more so, than regularity of the bowels. The Kidneys remove from the Blood those effete matters which, if permitted to remain, would speedily destroy life. A total suspension of the urinary discharges will occasion death from thirty-six to forty-eight hours.

When the Urine is voided in small quantities at the time, or when there is a disposition to Urinate more frequently than natural, or when the Urine is high colored or scalding with weakness in the small of the back, it should not be trifled with or delayed, but Koskoo should be taken at once to remedy the difficulty, before a lesion of the organs takes place. Most of the diseases of the Bladder originate from those of the Kidneys, the urine being imperfectly secreted in kidneys, prove irritating to the Bladder and Urinary passages. When we recollect that medicine never reaches the Kidneys except through the general circulation of the Blood, we see how necessary it is to keep the Fountain of Life Pure.

KOSKOO!

MEETS WITH GREAT SUCCESS IN THE CURE OF

Diseases of the Nervous System.

Almost nine-tenths of our people suffer from nervous exhaustion, and are, therefore, liable to its concomitant evils of mental depression, confused ideas, softening of the brain, insanity, and complete breaking down of the general health. Thousands are suffering to-day with broken-down nervous systems, and, unfortunately, tobacco, alcohol, late hours, over-work, [mental and physical] are causing diseases of the nervous system to increase at a fearful ratio.

The symptoms to which diseases of the nervous system give rise, may be stated as follows. A dull, heavy feeling in the head, sometimes more or less severe pain or headache; Periodical headache, Dizziness, Noises or ringing in the Head; Confusion of Ideas; Temporary Loss of memory; Dejection of spirits; Starting during sleep; Bad Dreams; Hesitation in answering questions; Dulness of Hearing; Twitching of the Face and Arms, &c., which, if not promptly treated, lead to Paralysis, Delirium, Insanity, Impotency, Apoplexy, &c., &c.

CONCLUSION.

Suffering reader, do not think that because you have tried other remedies, you cannot be cured, but recollect that God, in His Providence, has not afflicted His children with pain and disease, without at the same time giving them something in the Great Garden of Nature that will cure them.

Have no hesitation in writing to me, and stating your case in full, and I will answer you promptly.
